The Prospectus of Yokohama Zenkoji Scholarship Foundation For International Buddhist Study

Starting from zero.

It has been 50 years past since founding of the Zenkoji Temple by Daien Bushi Daiocho.

He established "The Yokohama Zenkoji Scholarship Foundation for International Buddhist Study" in 1984, with commemorate of 15 years of founding the Zenkoji Temple when he realised that basic of the management of the temple has been established.

At the time he said as;

Today we are in the "cosmic age" in which people can live and travel around the world compact in time and space and in which some people live in the midst of worries, despair and even crisis.

There has never been a greater need for the teaching of Shakyamuni Buddha in the tragic modern society.

Although Japan is a major Buddhist country, its Buddhist organizations lack any formal infrastructure to meet the urgent need to fully propagate the Buddhist teachings and practices among people of all walks of life.

It is sinful when only recognizing of Japan in the world, Buddhism in Japan, Buddhism and myself, and my existence. I questioned myself what was my faith at the time of establishing the temple.

I acknowledged that the world criticism for Japanese Buddhism as lack of social participation, contribution, practicalness. And under the protection of Buddha, I confessed and reconsidered my mission and responsibility.

Process to the establishment of the Foundation, as the temple is only a small one in Yokohama and there are limitation for a person can be done, therefore could not expect a big result from it. It was necessary to ask advice of many experts and received supports and donations.

I was once driven to own faith and had completed Sodou-ango at Daihonzan Eiheiji Temple, pilgrimage around Japan for worshipping Buddha's ashes, then went to India the origin of the Buddhism for circuit pilgrimage, and had completed Kujun-ango as a sthavira Buddhist priest.

Furthermore, I worked at the Zen Center in Los Angeles for two years as a Buddhist missionary for teaching Zen meditation.

I have constantly strived to drive the Dharma Wheel forward in my conviction to find the right way. My Buddhist convictions and practices have forged my determination to establish a Foundation for Buddhist International Studies

Thereafter until now, the Foundation sent or hosted in total of 136 scholarship fellows abroad or to Japan.

Now these fellows are around the globe and working worldwide.

For those who wish to apply, nationality/religion/religious sect/and sex is not a matter for the qualification. We seek for a person who has global point of view to contribute to the world through Buddhist doctrine, prosperity of the Buddhism, and world peace.
